

Sexual and Reproductive Health of Young People: Expanding the Research and Program Agenda

2006. 16 p.

Authors:

Jejeebhoy, Shireen J.

Description:

This paper's focuses on areas of relatively poorly addressed or understood aspects of young people's sexual and reproductive health. The authors propose to argue for the need to supplement our knowledge and programmatic interventions with regard to three specific issues related to young people's lives that need attention: (a) an overlooked sub-population of married adolescent girls; (b) an overlooked behavior of sex without consent; (c) programmatic interventions that work (or do not) in enhancing young people's health and development.
