Description:

In 2006, the National AIDS Commission (NAC) adopted the Situation Analysis on HIV in the Maldives, based on which a National Strategic Plan on HIV and AIDS (NSP) was developed and adopted by the NAC in 2007. Also in 2007, the National AIDS Program (NAP) obtained resources from the Global Fund on AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria (GFATM) to support it in the implementation of the NSP. Half-way through the NSP period (2007-2011), this Joint Mid-Term Review (JMTR) aimed to assist the National AIDS Program in taking stock of achievements and challenges in implementation so far. Specifically, the JMTR had the following objectives: 1. To assess the status and dynamics of the HIV epidemic in the Maldives. 2. To assess whether national responses adequately address the dynamics of the epidemic. 3. To assess the implementation of the NSP to date, with a focus on priorities and analysis of gaps. 4. To recommend strategic actions for 2010-2011 to fill the gaps, and estimate the cost of doing so.
