UNESCO and UN websites

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations works with governments to leverage schools’ potential through programmes and policies, supporting the Sustainable Development Goals of food security, nutrition, education and health for everyone.

UNESCO Education for Health and Wellbeing supports the contribution of national education sectors to ending AIDS and promoting better health and well-being for all children and young people.

UNESCO School Violence and Bullying ensures all children and young people have access to safe, inclusive, health-promoting learning environments.

UNAIDS Secretariat is working towards stopping new HIV infections, ensuring that everyone living with HIV has access to HIV treatment, protecting and promoting human rights and producing data for decision-making.

International Labour Organization ILO is the lead UN agency for HIV/AIDS policies and programmes in the world of work and private sector mobilization.

United Nations Children's Fund UNICEF works in 190 countries and territories to save children’s lives, to defend their rights, and to help them fulfil their potential, from early childhood through adolescence. UNICEF’s HIV response centres on pregnant women, mothers, infants, children and adolescents living with HIV, exposed to HIV or at risk of acquiring HIV.

United Nations Development Programme UNDP works in partnership with governments, civil society, the private sector and other UN organizations to support countries for the achievement of universal health coverage, including access to safe and affordable medicines, diagnostic and vaccines.

United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women – UN Women programmes help to amplify the voices of women living with HIV and AIDS, using strategies that promote their leadership and meaningful participation in all decisions and actions to respond to the epidemic.

UN Women Gender and HIV/AIDS Portal aims to promote understanding, knowledge sharing and action on the gender-based inequalities propelling the HIV epidemic.

United Nations Girls’ Education Initiative UNGEI is committed to accelerating action on girls’ education in “A world where all girls and boys are empowered through quality education to realize their full potential and contribute to transforming societies where gender equality becomes a reality.

United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees UNHCR is a global organization dedicated to saving lives, protecting rights and building a better future for refugees, forcibly displaced communities and stateless people. UNHCR promotes and supports the development of programmes to ensure universal access to prevention, care, treatment and support programmes.

United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime UNODC is a global leader in the fight against drugs, crime, corruption and terrorism. Its work increases security and improves the lives of individuals, families and communities all over the world.

United Nations Population Fund UNFPA is the United Nations sexual and reproductive health agency. Its mission is to deliver a world where every pregnancy is wanted, every childbirth is safe and every young person's potential is fulfilled.

World Bank supports countries’ efforts to achieve universal health coverage and provide quality, affordable health services to everyone regardless of their ability to pay.

World Food Programme WFP is the leading humanitarian organization saving lives and changing lives, delivering food assistance in emergencies and working with communities to improve nutrition and build resilience.

World Health Organization WHO Working with 194 Member States, across six regions, and from more than 150 offices, WHO staff are united in a shared commitment to strive to combat diseases – communicable diseases like influenza and HIV, and no communicable diseases like cancer and heart disease.

Young People Today is a platform that supports implementation of the Eastern and Southern Africa (ESA) Ministerial Commitment on access to Comprehensive Sexuality Education and Youth-Friendly Health Services.