Description:
From 2010–2012, the global Health Policy Project (funded by the United States Agency for International Development), in partnership with African Men for Sexual Health and Rights (AMSHeR), developed Policy Analysis and Advocacy Decision Model for HIV-Related Services: Males Who Have Sex with Males, Transgender People, and Sex Workers (Beardsley K., 2013), hereafter referred to as the Decision Model. It provides country stakeholders—such as advocates, policymakers, and service providers—with tools to inventory, assess, and advocate policies that govern the accessibility and sustainability of services for key populations. By comparing these policies to global normative guidelines and best practices, the model reveals gaps in and challenges to implementation. Using the model, the study team analyzed 120 policy and program documents related to HIV and/or key populations. The team also conducted three stakeholder meetings to assess the impact of existing policies on key populations in Kenya.
